'Sustaining a Future from Fashion to Footwear'

Guest Speaker:

Lisa Ly

Sustainability Manager at Clarks Shoes

Lisa will explore how the footwear industry is advancing towards sustainability – through better products, forward thinking supply chains and ambitious initiatives. She will look at the biggest challenges for the industry, how brands are changing the way they operate and how to achieve a more sustainable future through collaboration and innovations.

Clarks

With a background in Fashion management, Lisa has worked for brands such as George, ASDA, ASOS and now Clarks, specialising in producing sustainable strategies for businesses, sourcing sustainable materials and working with suppliers to achieve environmental goals. Her role allows her to collaborate with suppliers, NGOs, brands and government initiatives to support the fashion industry towards a sustainable future.
